A MISCHIEVOUS CROW.

Not Afraid of a Gun and Liked Being Felled by Boys.

Strangely enough, there was nothing of which this crow stood so much in fear as crows themselves. Often they would come perilously near and "caw" at him. Helter skelter he would fly to the house, and his relief was painfully manifested when he was safe inside the kitchen. Their wild life evidently had no charm for him. He was in terror of large snakes, too, but small ones he gobbled up as fast as he could. It was a most effectual way of preventing them from frightening him when they grew bigger.

No attention was given to his education, but at last we discovered that he could repeat a word or phrase of a conversation he had just heard. He could laugh like a human being and imitate the cackling of a hen. "Stop!" "Hello!" "Hold on!" were favorite expressions of his, and generally his use of them was intelligent. He liked to perch on top of the barn and shout out "Stop!" at the farmers that went by in their wagons. If they reined in their horses, thinking it was some person that had called them, the success of his little joke would cause him to burst into immoderate laughter.

He actually enjoyed being snow-balled. He would stand upon an old tree stump and look saucily at the boys, as much as to say: "Come, now, here's a good shot! Why don't you hit me?" But Jim was always too quick for them. No boy ever could hit him. He would dodge like lightning, laughing heartily as the ball flew harmlessly past, or broke in pieces on the other side of the stump. Then up he would hop again, with another challenge, ready for the next snowball.

He was not afraid of a gun. He would stand close by while one was being loaded, and it might be fired off a number of times without having any perceptible effect on him. But he was keenly alive to its danger, and the very moment the muzzle was pointed at him he lost no time in getting out of the way.

Jim was a very mischievous crow indeed. When Grace, the baby, was learning to walk, he would seize her slyly by the dress and cause her to fall. He would peck at the toes of the barefooted children that came for water and laugh heartily as he drove them dismayed from the yard. Sometimes he would stoat unnoticed down into the cellar. The blows he could give with his beak had the force of a small hammer, so that it was a very unpleasant matter for him to turn the spigot of a barrel. One day pretty apt to discover after such a visit that all the vinegar had run out on the floor.—Malcolm Douglas in St. Nicholas.

A SMART CAT.

How He convinced Himself That It Was His Own Image.

The late Dr. Romanes, in his "Animal Intelligence," gives two stories of cats, which, on seeing their own reflection in a looking glass, convinced themselves that the reflection was an illusion. In the case of a very intelligent cat of mine, he went, I think, a step beyond this—namely, he satisfied himself that it was in some way his own image. Even if my deduction is wrong, the first part of his proceedings was singularly like those in Dr. Romanes' accounts that it seems as though it were a uniform law of cat nature to act in this way, and so far it may not be altogether uninteresting.

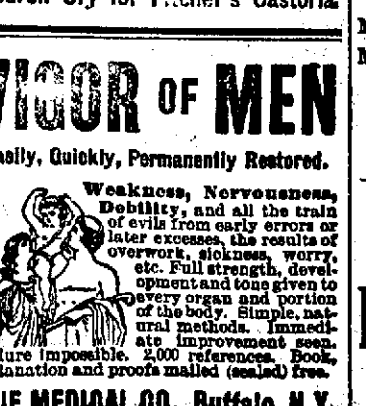

I put the cat on a table in front of a small toilet mirror. After looking at his reflection for a short while he went behind the glass. Then he returned to his seat in front and again watched it attentively. After a few moments he rapidly dashed behind it. He again returned to his seat in front of the glass, and while retaining his seat and keeping his eyes fixed on the image he struck about behind the glass with his paw in different directions.

His next action was, I fancy, suggested by seeing the image apparently strike with its paw also. Keeping his seat and retaining his eye fixed on the image, he proceeded to (if I may use the word) posture in front of the glass. He raised his paws alternately, licked them, touched the glass, moved his head, etc. I have tried to simply describe the facts and as far as possible avoid drawing conclusions.—Science Gossip.

How the Money Goes.

It is unsafe to allow any ordinary woman to enter a store with money. She has such a craving for luxuries, such a contempt for mere necessities, that she almost invariably purchases the former and is constantly in need of the latter. She goes forth to purchase an opera bonnet because she is going to the opera that very night, but her eye is caught by a tea gown, a bargain tea gown, and she buys it. That night some man seated behind a Gaiety-borough with many plumes swears. She goes out to buy a jacket, nodding one sorely, but her ratio fancy is caught by lace trimmed underwear, and before she realizes it she is reveling in new nightgowns and corset covers. She has even been known to go out to buy writing paper and to return with nothing but a blue and white cup and saucer.—Philadelphia Times.

Old Fashioned Compound Cathartic

Dr. Pierce was first to introduce a Little Pill to the American people. Many have imitated them, but none have approached his "Pleasant Pellets" in true worth, or value, for all laxative and cathartic purposes.

Once used, they are Always in Favor. Assist Nature a little now and then, with a gentle, cleansing laxative, thereby removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels, tuning up and invigorating the liver and quickening its action, and you thereby remove the cause of a multitude of distressing diseases, such as headaches, indigestion, or dyspepsia, biliousness, pimples, blotches, eruptions, boils, constipation, piles, fistula and maladies too numerous to mention.

That, of all known agents to accomplish this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are unequalled, is proven by the fact that once used, they are always in favor. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. Hence, their great popularity, with sufferers from habitual constipation, piles and indigestion.

They absolutely cure sick headache, biliousness, constipation, coated tongue, poor digestion, or dyspepsia and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

A free sample of the "Pellets," (4 to 7 doses) on trial, is mailed to any address, post-paid, on receipt of name and address on postal card.

Various causes are assigned for the advance in the price of silver bullion. Those who have gold-bug leanings attribute it to the prospective International Monetary Conference. Others say it is owing to the demand for silver in China and Japan, while there are observing people who are of the opinion that it is due to speculation on the part of silver purchasers. Senator Stewart thinks the advance is only temporary and is of no advantage to mine owners, as it affects only bullion already mined and in the market. Owners of silver mines are not working because of the hostility of the executive and law-making powers to the white metal.

The next Presidential election will be fought on the financial question and the issue will be gold or silver. Bi-metalists do not look for any assistance from the Republican or Democratic parties. Sincere advocates of free coinage do not intend to divide their strength, but will concentrate their efforts to elect Sibley of Pennsylvania to the Presidency. Senators Stewart, Jones and many other prominent advocates of free coinage consider him better qualified to lead the silver forces than Teller or Bland. The battle cry will be silver first; personal ambitions afterwards.

Isn't Senator Stewart and other members of the American Bimetallic League right in asserting that the financial question is the main issue. At what time within the memory of the present generation has more than one great issue been settled during a Presidential term? Lincoln was elected on the one issue of preventing the further extension of slavery, and Wendell Phillips the great abolitionist, stamped New England against him because the platform on which he was a candidate did not go far enough on the slavery question to suit the radicals. The second time Lincoln was elected on the single issue of preserving the Union. General Grant and his immediate successors were elected on the war issue, which was settled when Lee surrendered. Cleveland was elected on tariff reform and a hope that the Democratic party would do more to release the people from the grasp of the Gold Trust than the Republicans. During the administrations of Hayes and of Arthur not even one issue of great importance to the people was settled, and the average reduction of ten or eleven per cent in schedules under Cleveland's administration does not settle the tariff question.

Monetary reform is to-day the leading issue in the United States. If it is satisfactorily settled under the next administration the people will have cause to rejoice. That it will not be settled by parties which are sincerely in favor of the gold standard is self-evident, therefore the only rational course for men who are sincerely in favor of free coinage to pursue is to vote as a unit for a candidate who is unequivocally in favor of silver. The people should not countenance duplicity on the financial question as upon the restoration of silver to its historic position as a money metal. We have had enough Janus-faced candidates on duplex platforms, which are construed to mean free coinage before election and the opposite after election.

WILL THERE BE WAR.

Washington dispatches say persons who have opportunity of knowing something about the subject say the Venezuelan and British Governments are likely to resort to arms to settle a difficulty unless Great Britain consents to arbitrate, as suggested by the United States. Venezuela expects the United States to back her up, but in this it may be disappointed. A foreign war in which the United States might take a hand would not be objectionable to a great many at the present time, especially if it was for the purpose of maintaining the Monroe doctrine. But how could the United States have the heart to go to war with England, the source from which we borrow gold to maintain our credit abroad? Would it not be base ingratitude to take the part of a South American Republic, which makes silver a legal tender, in a contest with a country that takes our bonds in exchange for gold to keep us from coining silver? What if Great Britain makes several millions of dollars by the transaction? Doesn't it enable us to maintain a gold standard? What would become of our credit abroad if, by reason of our taking part with Venezuela, Great Britain, notwithstanding the great profit it derives from the business, should from patriotic motives, refuse to loan us any more gold? Would we not be compelled to coin our silver and pay a part of the salaries of officials and Government expenses in silver coin? That would be far more humiliating to the Government and the money power, which dictates its financial policy, than the abandonment of the Monroe doctrine. Why, under such conditions, the members of the Gold Trust in the East and in the West would have to use articles of American manufacture or pay two prices for imported commodities and instead of spending $100,000,000 in gold annually eight-seen in Europe they would have to stay at home and seek recreation at Saratoga or the White Sulphur Springs. No, the gold men do not want the United States to take the side of Venezuela in a war with Great Britain, as it would interfere with their financial policy, which they deem of much greater importance than the doctrine promulgated by a patriotic President seventy-two years ago.

A TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

The Heroic Act of an Engineer on the Berkeley Local.

SILVER MEN CONFERRING.

Four Persons Killed in a Railroad Accident.

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

Several Persons Killed at New Orleans. NEW ORLEANS, April 5.—About 2 o'clock this morning an explosion occurred from an unknown cause in a two-story brick building near the French Market. On the ground floor there are two stores, a grocery and a saloon. The explosion was accompanied by a terrific sound, apparently half smothered, as if blown up from the bottom of the building. The edifice trembled with a tremendous convulsion, went up throwing parts of the building high in the air and tearing up the street, the debris coming down and crashing through adjoining buildings.

The grocer's wife and two children were killed. Two lodgers were also killed and their bodies recovered. Others are missing, it is not known how many. Five are injured. One of the survivors is L. R. Boulet, who was asleep on the second floor of the saloon, and was awakened by the ceiling falling on him. His cries for assistance attracted a rescuing party, who dug him out. Boulet said powder was kept in the grocery below, but he was puzzled to account for its explosion.

Felix Rigot and James Edwards, employees of the fish stand in the market, were found. It was ascertained that Edwards went to the saloon a few minutes before the explosion with a basket of shrimps.

While the police are inclined to believe that the explosion was the result of accident, people residing in the vicinity of the wrecked building are of an entirely different opinion. They state openly that the explosion was an attempt to kill Boulet, who had such a miraculous escape. Boulet is the Frenchman who, two years ago, shot and killed one of the wealthiest Italians doing business near the French Market. This man, Aristene Balestracci, and Boulet were in the saloon business together. Boulet's wife contracted a liaison with Balestracci, which caused Boulet to leave her. Balestracci would taunt Boulet with his dishonor, but was always surrounded by friends when doing so. Two years ago they met at the French Market and Balestracci who was carrying a cane, drew from it a sheath a large sword with which he attacked Boulet. The latter drew a revolver, fired and killed the Italian. The trial resulted in Boulet's acquittal.

Ever since then Boulet has been looked upon as a marked man. His friends tried to persuade him to leave the city, or, at least, to stay away from the market, but he refused. Last night he occupied a room on the second floor, and it is believed the explosion was done for the simple purpose of killing him. Balestracci was a leader of the Italian colony and just the sort of a man to be at the head of the Mafia.

FREIGHT TRAIN WRECKED.

Four Men Killed and Others Fatally Injured. ALTON, Ill., April 5.—A fearful wreck occurred this morning at Wood River Bridge on the Chicago & Alton out-off, about half a mile northeast of Alton. A long and heavy freight train was coming down the grade when the middle of the train bulged out and fifteen cars were piled on top of each other. Four men were killed outright and two fatally injured. None of them are known, but they are supposed to be tramps stealing a ride. The wreck was caused by the train being too heavily loaded behind. When the brakes were put on the front cars the weight behind was thrown on a duffer in the middle of the train, crushing it to atoms and wrecking other cars.

SILVER LEADERS CONFERRING.

The Outlook Bright in Pennsylvania. WASHINGTON, April 5.—A conference of silver leaders has just been held in this city. It was attended by many prominent men, among them ex-Congressman Sibley, Judge Joseph Sharon of Connecticut, Senator Jones of Nevada, General Warner, Senator Stewart and Congressman Newlands. At the close of the conference Jones, Sibley and Newlands left for New York, where they are to hold another conference concerning the welfare of the new party. Sibley is understood to have been exceedingly sanguine of the outlook in Pennsylvania, and spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of gaining recruits in the East.

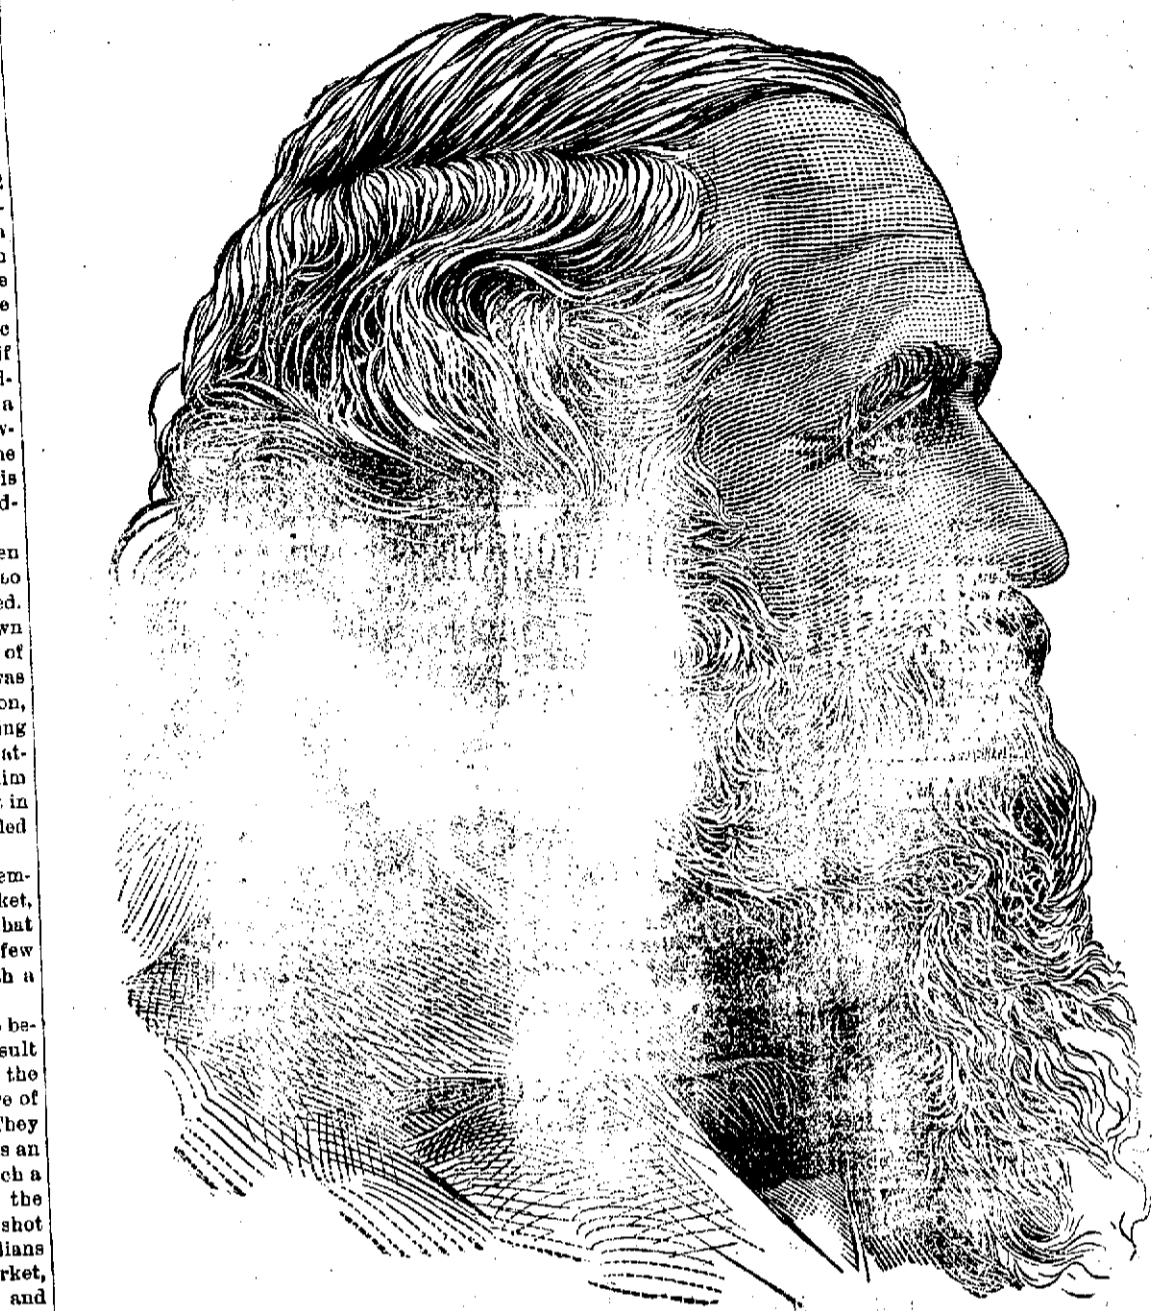

An Heroic Engineer.

Berkeley, April 5.—"Dad" Bryant, the engineer on the local Berkeley train, saved a young child from death to-day. The train was going down grade at the rate of twenty miles an hour when Bryant noticed the child on the track. He put on the brakes, but the train could not be stopped in time. Bryant climbed down on the cow-catcher, and seizing the child lifted her up on the engine.

PHYSICIANS NOW ORDER IT A Reduction Sale!

Paine's Celery Compound the One Spring Remedy That Makes People Well.

Physicians Prescribe It, Use It and Advise People to Take It In Preference to Anything Else in April and May Because It Purifies the Blood, Feeds the Brain and Strengthens the Nerves.

Paine's Celery Compound is not a patent medicine.

No class of professional men are more conservative, more careful in giving advice, or more painstaking in finding out the real facts of a case than physicians.

Their recommendation in matters with which they are conversant is trustworthy. When physicians of known repute, not only prescribe and use, but also bring home Paine's Celery Compound for their own families, there can be no doubt of its high standing in the eyes of medical men in general.

This is what busy, successful practitioners are doing these Spring days all over the country.

Paine's Celery Compound is prepared, as they all well know, from the formula of the foremost physician of the century, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., of Dartmouth Medical School. Among medical men there is an absolute certainty as to just what Paine's Celery Compound is capable of doing. The careful record of the vast number of cases where it has made people well, has been published in the medical journals of the country.

Paine's Celery Compound, stands today as the one thoroughly authenticated remedy for weakness and debility due to malnutrition of the nervous system and impure blood.

This hard working, earnest class of professional men have never been slow in accepting Paine's Celery Compound.

They declare that it gives the tired body every possible chance to get back to a healthy condition. It cures nervous weakness, heart palpitation, general lack of strength, and all forms of weakness; rests and restores the jaded, fatigued brain and nerves, because it provides for the abnormal waste of these parts by an unusually prompt supply of appropriate nerve food. It purifies the blood as nothing else can do.

If every man and woman plagued with frequent headaches, and every business man made anxious by pain at the base of the brain and neuralgia twinges, would take Paine's Celery Compound, the world would be lightened of a vast deal of misery that ought never to be borne.

The most advanced medical thought of the latter quarter of the 19th century has prepared Paine's Celery Compound to meet and overcome the troubles that are due to ill-fed, ill-regulated nerves, and poor, thin blood.

N. N. Leaneare, M.D., of Charleston, Mass., whose portrait appears above, one of the ablest physicians in the Boston district, a man of character and influence, says:

"After using Paine's Celery Compound for four or five years in my general practice, I can cheerfully recommend it. For catarrh of head or stomach, for instance, it acts like a charm. For women, in many cases it is a blessing. For chronic rheumatism it does give relief. Torpid liver, general debility, constipation, pains in stomach and loss of appetite, it relieves and is the best of remedies in general nervous prostration. I recommend it to many of my patients, believing, as I do, in its real merits. I believe it a public blessing to invalids, and, as yet, not fully appreciated."

J. C. Flynn, M.D., a well known Michigan physician, is but one of hundreds who prescribe Paine's Celery Compound because it cures. Writing from Warren in that State he says: "I use the Paine's Celery Compound freely in my practice, as a nerve tonic, blood purifier and general tonic in all debilitated conditions of the system. I find it a fine thing for patients recovering from the grip, especially old people."

Dr. J. H. Hanford, of Reading, Mass., whose writings in the Household, Health and Home, and other journals of national circulation, have endeared him to thousands, says: "I have used Paine's Celery Compound personally with much benefit. I prescribe it with excellent results."

J. H. Thomas, M.D., 320 Liberty street, Pittsburg, Penn., says: "For several months I had been suffering from rheumatism; I had taken all the usual remedies with no real benefit. I took one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound and found myself much improved. The second bottle is nearly gone and I consider myself cured."

W. W. Hubbard, M.D., of Poultney, Vt., writes: "I was run down from repeated attacks of the grip, and my stomach, bowels and kidneys were out of order. I had no strength, energy or ambition to think or act; and was excessively nervous and irritable. After taking the first bottle of Paine's Celery Compound I felt better. The third bottle restored me to my usual health and strength, and I feel ten years younger than before."

Dr. William Brown, of Fredonia, Kan., says: "It has wonderfully improved my general health."

W. Allen Hubbard, M.D., Boston, Mass., writes: "I have prescribed the remedy in a number of cases where the blood was impoverished and the nerves weakened. The results have been so satisfactory that I do not hesitate to endorse Paine's Celery Compound."

Similar testimonials literally by hundreds might be quoted. The high scientific attainments of A. Livezey, A. M., M.D., of Yardley, Penn., have made his statements authority on matters pertaining to health. He gives his personal experience, how he was cured of sleeplessness. J. W. Ferguson, M.D., of Thayer, Kan., tells how it has cured him of dyspepsia, etc. The sum total of the testimony of such men as these, as well as of the more celebrated physicians whose letters have been published in these columns, is that Paine's Celery Compound makes people well.

THE MINT SHORTAGE.

The Detectives Rounding Up the Thieves.

The Carson Appeal says what is going on in the mint is still a sealed book. Anyone, however, who thinks the detectives are not hard at work is decidedly mistaken. The matter is being quietly but effectually probed to a much greater depth than most people imagine. Every possible ramification of the matter is being thoroughly investigated and when the work is finished it will be one of the most exhaustive investigations of the kind in the history of the mint service. Not a single avenue of information has been ignored and the entire ground is being covered. The special agents of the Government have worked in Reno, Carson and Virginia City and the entire operations of the thieves will be soon a public matter.

Rumor is busy with the names of the men who will first feel the hand of the Government, but when the Government puts its hand down officially is time enough for newspapers to speak. The officials are not giving out the slightest information, but the U. S. District Attorney is working in concert with the inspectors and detectives and preparing indictments.

Every bar of bullion in the mint is being assayed and at the rate the work is going on it will take four or five days more to complete the investigation in that department, and possibly two weeks more before the inspectors will be in a position to make their official report.

The first suspicion of the shortage came when Meltzer Harris discovered that his gold bars were most all silver.

He asked a man where the gold had gone and was told that he would "catch it all in the chimney." This explanation seemed a trifle thin and he began to investigate and reported the fact to Adams, who sent at once to Washington for a special agent. Mr. Mason came and has investigated nearly 600 melts and the shortage has been growing, so that it reaches in the neighborhood of $100,000. The largest shortage in one bar was one that was supposed to contain $2,000 ounces of gold, but it only held out about half of it, a loss of $20,000.

The man who said the gold had gone up the chimney was the first man investigated. It is also claimed that a bar of Voltaire bullion of 1,600 ounces was so base as to be worth only $12. It was refused and lay in the mint for some time, but it was used to substitute for a good bar. This rumor is not verified. The principle work of the detectives has been to locate the gang as there were more than one involved.

These people have met frequently to compare notes and see what show there is of their work being run to cover, and the detectives have located their place of meeting and spotted every one.

The detectives were in a happy mood yesterday and it was hinted that one of the gang had "squealed" and made a clean breast of the business under an assurance from the Government agent that he would not be prosecuted.

UNIVERSITY REGENTS.

The Board Met Yesterday and Allowed Bills and Considered Matters of Importance.

The Board of University Regents met yesterday in regular monthly session; all present. The usual monthly bills were considered and allowed, and some matters of minor importance attended to. The principle subject considered at yesterday's meeting, was the purchase of the additional land required by the University, and the building of the boys' dormitory. The Board declined accepting the proposition of the Agricultural Board relative to leasing or granting the agricultural grounds to the experiment station owing to the very vague and complicated propositions that were offered. Plans were examined and considered for the building of the proposed dormitory, and the Board ordered such amendments to the plans as was thought advisable, and will probably be ready within two weeks to furnish plans and specifications for a building 125x64 feet. A number of excellent plans were submitted, and ideas were suggested by each of them and the Regents will choose the best. No definite arrangement was arrived at regarding the purchase of the lands, before the adjournment last evening, but it was thought that the matter would be satisfactorily settled.

A Wreck on the Carson and Colorado Railroad.

Mr. W. Sanders received a telegram from Mrs. Sanders at Wabaska yesterday afternoon saying that a wreck had occurred, but that they, meaning she and her children, were all right. Upon the arrival of the V. & T. last night a few more particulars were gleaned regarding the wreck. It was reported that the wreck occurred near Wabaska and that twenty-four cars of cattle were derailed. An employee by the name of Chas. Nolan was killed, and it was also reported that a boy was slightly hurt. No further particulars could be learned, except that it was a bad wreck, but how it occurred or the cause was not learned.

ESTHETIC OSCAR.

His Suit Against Queensbury Dismissed—The Marquis Proves His Charges.

LONDON, April 5.—The jury in the case of Oscar Wilde against the Marquis of Queensbury found the plea of justification, submitted by the Marquis of Queensbury was proved, and the Marquis was discharged from custody. The verdict was received with loud applause in the court which the Judge did not check. A warrant for the arrest of Oscar Wilde, it is expected, will be promptly applied for. Copies of all witnesses' statements and the short hand notes of the trial have been furnished the public prosecution.

LATER—Oscar Wilde has since been arrested at the Cadogan Hotel.

Edward Carson, Q. C., leading counsel for the defense, made a terrible denunciation of Oscar Wilde in court this morning. Sir Edward Clarke and other counsel for Wilde left the court room and consulted with their client.

Returning they asked to withdraw the suite and on Wilde's behalf, to submit to the Marquis: "Not guilty." The Judge instructed the jury as to the verdict rendered. Officials of the Treasury Department, under which public prosecutions were directed, visited the Bow Street police station several times this afternoon, accompanied at the last visit by a detective and two boys. The magistrate questioned the boys and then issued a warrant for Wilde's arrest.

Wilde spent several hours in company with Lord Alfred Douglas at the Hotel Holborn. His brougham was waiting in front of the hotel. Early in the afternoon Lord Alfred drove to the bank, cashed a check and returned to the hotel. Soon after both Wilde and Alfred drove away. Wilde was arrested at the Cadogan Hotel. He was taken in a cab by two detectives to Scotland Yard.

Oscar Wilde has written a letter to the newspapers in which he says: "It was not possible to prove my case without putting Lord Alfred Douglas in the witness-box against his father. Lord Alfred was extremely anxious to get into the box but I would not allow it. Rather than put him in such a painful position, I determined to retire from the case, bear upon my own shoulders whatever shame and ignominy might result from not prosecuting the Marquis of Queensbury."

Yesterday's Examiner has an interesting article regarding the Carson Mint. The two or three weeks investigation is drawing to a close. The curtain will likely fall on a grand tableau and the whole matter will end about the same as all such stunts do.

Geo. Frazer of Wadsworth, who has been sick for several days and confined to his room, was out on the streets for a short time yesterday.

Drs. W. A. Phillips and J. A. Lewis will leave for Carson this morning to attend a meeting of the State Board of Health, and will return this evening.

The Riverside Hotel is crowded every night and Mr. Wm. Thompson, the proprietor, is considering seriously the advisability of adding an annex to the hotel.

There was nothing startling at the court-house yesterday. Everything was going on in the usual way and the business of the county is being properly attended to.

E. M. Van Harlingen, well known in Reno, and who for a long time was connected with the Surveyor General's office, will leave for California Sunday evening to reside permanently.

The Palace Dry Goods House has just received and opened a large stock of new spring goods and eastern novelties, new wash goods in white and colors, lace, embroideries, handkerchiefs and trimmings.

Robert Stewart, ex-sheriff of Esmeralda county is said to have struck it rich in the Gem Mine in Silver Star district. The ore is literally spangled with gold and Bob feels better than if he had been elected President.

H. Nugent, formerly of Reno, now of Hayward, California, is here visiting old friends. He says times are very quiet in his section, and fruit growing, which is the principal industry, is greatly overdone and does not pay.

The Reville says Vernon Wilson of Oakland, California, has resumed operations in the Gold Park mines. He found that all the buildings and machinery of the company at Gold Park had been taken away by unknown parties.

The cattle corrals were crowded with cattle yesterday. John Sparks will ship a special trainload each day for three days commencing to-day to Omaha. The cattle are said to be some of the best that were ever shipped from this point.

Mr. J. B. Abel of Elko, who has been employed at the Hospital for the treatment of mental diseases, severed his connection with that institution yesterday and left for his home. Mr. Abel has made many friends during his residence in Reno, who are sorry to see him leave so soon.

The large cattle shipments east are creating considerable stir among cattle buyers from the West. It looks as if Western butchers were getting into a tight place. John Sparks went as far west as Alvarado, within twenty-five miles of San Francisco, and bought up cattle for the eastern market.

Governor Jones has appointed as Honorary Board of Visitors of the Nevada State University for two years A. E. Cheney, A. C. Cleveland, S. J. Bonfield Jr., J. C. Hazlett, R. K. Colcord, A. L. Miss E. G. Gibbs' millinery opening last evening was a grand success. Her pretty store was crowded, and it was a veritable fairy bower. The tasty decorations and the novelties displayed attracted every visitor immediately and many were the Oh's and the Ah's expressed by the lady visitors. Her line of millinery cannot be surpassed anywhere, and her prices are very reasonable.
